COUNTY COMES THROUGH IN CD "DISASTER"

Adams County's Civil Defense headquarters staff found Friday night that the county could easily care for 9,000 additional people and could send fire equipment and manpower elsewhere in case of an emergency even though there might be considerable damage in parts of the county.

Taking part in the second phase of "Operation Alert-1959," the C-D officials gathered Friday evening in the Gettysburg council chambers in the fire engine building, E. Middle St., to fill out forms prepared by the state C-D headquarters indicating their response to a problem set up by the state C-D.

For the staff exercise, the state determined the date was April 22, five days after bombs hit the state on April 17, the day when the public participation phase of this year's air raid alert was held.

York Bombed

Answering the problems posed, County C-D Director William G. Weaver found there are some gaps in the present system. The problem set up by the state assumed a 100-kiloton bomb had been dropped on York.

Charts prepared by federal C-D officials from actual atom bomb damage showed there would have been considerable damage in the eastern part of the county from the blast, and about 500 injured.

The charts also showed that the county as a whole would have been so "hot" from radiation for the first several days after the blast that no one could have ventured from shelter.

Five days after the blast rescue crews could have moved about, but the question of pockets of radiation and how to detect them rests as of the moment on only one man.

SECOND WEEK OF DAY CAMP IS SCHEDULED

Plans for the second week of day camping for Girl Scouts of the county were outlined Friday evening at a meeting of the camp staff at the Girl Scout office in the First National Bank building.

The encampment, to be held at Camp Happy Valley June 15 through 19, will be for Brownies, Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts from the Arendtsville, Bendersville, Biglerville and Cashtown areas.

The registration fee for the four-day camp will be $4 and is to be paid in the Girl Scout office by May 29. It will cover transportion, insurance, and one meal. Flyups, intermediates and seniors may stay overnight one night. An extra 50 cents is charged for supper and breakfast. The 50 cents is to be paid at the time of the encampment.

Bring Own Lunch

Each Scout attending is required to bring her own lunch each day.

To provide transportation to the camp located near Fairfield a bus will leave the Aspers square each morning at 8:15 o'clock, stop at Bucher's Restaurant in Bendersville at 8:20 o'clock and at Ditzler's Appliance Store, Biglerville, at 8:30. Another bus will leave Arendtsville at 8:15 each morning, stop at Fritz Cabins, McKnightstown at 8:30 and at the Cashtown Fire House at 8:35. The buses will leave camp at 3 o'clock each afternoon.

Mrs. Marvin Fox is camp director and Mrs. LeRoy Routsong, nurse.

Mrs. Ross Schwartz is crafts chairman with Mrs. David Pitzer and Mrs. Paul Black as her assistants. Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. Luther Horick will be in charge of the music. Mrs. Dorsey Shultz, Mrs. Robert Thompson and Senior Aide Sally Fox will conduct the nature courses.

Unit Leaders

Unit leaders will include: Mrs. Jack Orner, Mrs. Ronald Grimm, Mrs. Delroy Keller, all of Arendtsville; Mrs. Myron Brough, Aspers; Mrs. Kenneth Alwine and Mrs. Dean Carey, of Biglerville; Mrs. Joseph Yohe, Orrtanna; Mrs. Paul Bream and Mrs. Ross White, Cashtown and Mrs. Glenn Taylor Bendersville. Senior Aides with units will be Janice Schwartz, Carole Ecker and Janet Slaybaugh.

The staff will meet at Camp Happy Valley June 11.

President, Friends Play Golf Today

President Eisenhower drove to Camp David, his mountain retreat, near Thurmont, Friday afternoon for a weekend of relaxation. However, the warm spring day lured him to the Gettysburg Country Club where, with his friend George Allen, he played 18 holes of golf before dinner. This morning the President was again on the course, this time with Allen and another friend, General Arthur S. Nevins.

Allen drove to Camp David with the President after they called on John Foster Dulles at the Walter Reed Hospital, Washington.

LOCAL YOUTH WILL RECEIVE SCOUT AWARD

The "For God and Country Award," based on scouting and service to the church, has been approved by the Black Walnut Boy Scout District for Donald L. Carver Jr., 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carver, Gettysburg

D. L. CARVER JR.

R. D., George Olinger, chairman of the district advancement committee, announced today.

Young Carver, a member of Explorer Post 73, spent two years in completing the various requirements for the award which will be presented to him at a service at Christ Lutheran Church of which he is a member.

He is a sophomore at Gettysburg High School, a member of the band, was student manager of the junior high school band, president of the Bible Club and a member of the Audi-visual Club. He was a Boy Scout in Troop 73 where he served as patrol leader and den chief and now is secretary of his post.

Other Activities

He attended the national Boy Scout jamboree at Valley Forge and the area encampment at Pittsburgh and represented the York-Adams Area Council at the governor's workshop day on safety at Harrisburg.

The church requirements for the award included 150 hours of service for the church, familiarization with the Sunday school and mission fields, preparation of family worship services, participation in youth action in the church, enlistment of persons for Sunday school, interviews with various persons on their vocation in connection with the Christian faith and study of the doctrines of the church, the scripture and missions.

Will Show Cancer Film On Monday

"Man Alive," an animated cartoon comparing the danger signals from needed repairs in an auto with the danger signals of cancer, will be shown Monday evening at the Parent-Teacher meeting in Fairfield, according to an announcement by Clyde Cover, president of the county teachers' group which is arranging for the showing of the cancer film in school centers throughout the county.

Two other films also will be shown and a representative of the Adams County Cancer Society will speak to the group. The public is invited.

LIBRARY BOARD APPROVES NEW SERVICE PLAN

The board of directors of the Adams County Free Library Friday evening gave their unanimous approval to the plan for improvement of library services in Pennsylvania as outlined by the governor's commission on library services to be implemented soon by the introduction of library legislation at Harrisburg.

President C. P. Keefer was directed to appoint a committee for "long range financial planning" for the county library and part of its instructions will be to study the procedures for and make recommendations to the board on initiating a county referendum to put the library on the support of tax funds.

The new state plan for development of library services is based upon more state aid but a requirement is more local support for public libraries, it was brought out Friday night. New legislation is expected to require local support equal to two mills on the assessed valuation of county real estate.

Names Committee

Local support to the Adams County library equals about a quarter of a mill, the board was told.

Keefer named the officers and committee chairmen on the library's board to this special committee.

Another board action authorized its property committee headed by Chairman Donald Becker, to consult an architect, the librarian and the library president in the development of a "master plan" for future development of the physical plant of the library "for the foreseeable future" which board members described as 10 to 25 years. The committee will report to the board later.

Plans were announced for a countywide meeting Monday evening of the newly-formed "Friends of the Library" at the main library building on E. High St. Keefer reported "a great deal of interest and a very encouraging start" for the new organization which is being headed by Mrs. Frank Hewetson.

Hold Up Book Bills

The importance of the board's financial discussion was pointed up by the current treasurer's report which showed the treasury has a balance of about $900, not enough to meet bills for the coming month. Payment of some book bills will be held up, it was decided.

The monthly report of the librarian, Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, showed further increases in circulation at the main library last month. The total loans there were 6,080 as against 5,918 in the same month last year. She noted the library now has 29,140 volumes.

The board noted with regret the recent death of Dr. J. Albert Blackburn, McKnightstown, a former director and onetime head of the Property Committee for the library. President Keefer directed that appropriate resolutions be prepared and sent to Mrs. Blackburn.

Two HS Students Get Diesel Ride

Two Gettysburg High School Juniors who are writing a term paper on Lincoln's trip to Gettysburg in 1863 were given a ride over Lincoln's route between Gettysburg and Hanover this morning by the Western Maryland railroad.

The boys, Barry C. Bixler and Charles Sheely, rode in the cab of Diesel 144 with Assistant Trainmaster Ray Shaw riding with them to point out items of interest along the historic route.

They left at 8:32 a.m. and expected to return to Gettysburg by auto early this afternoon.

$4,500 DAMAGE IN TRUCK, CAR CRASH FRIDAY

Approximately $4,500 damage resulted and one driver was fined for reckless driving after a truck tractor and semitrailer and an auto collided on the Harrisburg Rd. two miles north of here about 7:50 o'clock Friday morning.

State Police from the Gettysburg investigated and charged the truck driver, Vivian S. Deer, 42, Hampton, S. C., with reckless driving before Justice of the Peace Robert Bell of Straban Twp. He paid a $10 fine and the costs.

The car involved was operated by Herman Snyder, 63, New Oxford R. 2 carpenter, who was turning off the highway into the private drive at the home of Mrs. Elsie Kessel, R. 4, when the truck attempted to pass. Both had been traveling south on the highway before the crash.

Both vehicles came to a stop on the lawn in front of Mrs. Kessel's home after tearing up the lawn, pulling down telephone wires and ripping power lines off a home across the highway.

3 Hours To Untangle

State police said it took three hours to get the damaged vehicles and the wires untangled.

Damage to the new tractor-trailer was placed at about $4,000.

Damage to Snyder's car was estimated at $200 while property damage to Mrs. Kessel's grounds added another $250. Utility line damage might add another $200, police said.

Mr. Snyder was on his way to do some carpentry work at the Kessel home where a room is being added to the house. He worked at his carpentry while police and tow trucks added to the house. He worked at his carpentry while police and tow trucks removed the damaged vehicles.

The truck driver went to the Warner Hospital for treatment for bruised knees.

SEEK HIT-RUN DRIVER

State police today were searching for a hit-run driver whose car scraped the side of a parked car owned by Gerald Lee Sabaka, 21, Hanover, while Sabaka's auto was stopped along Route 194 south of Hanover.

Change Some Meter Hours

Borough police announced today that all meters on Lincoln Square, including the new red "speed meters," will operate from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily except Sunday and holidays, starting Monday.

Fourteen "speed meters" were installed Wednesday around the square and the first space on each side of the blocks radiating from the square. Thirty minutes is the maximum time. The nickel fee for the meters is expected to discourage the practice of parking for several hours and putting extra nickels into the meter.

Police said all other meters will operate from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Sunday and holidays, Saturday every meter in town will run until 10 p.m.

COUPLE WED IN BONNEAUVILLE THIS MORNING

Miss Mary Suzanne Chrismer, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Chrismer and the late Richard C. Chrismer, R. 5, became the bride of Alfred Emanuel Smith, son of Harry W. Smith, R. 5, this morning at 10 o'clock in St. Joseph's Church, Bonneauville. The nuptial low mass was performed by Rev. Fr. Leo J. Krichten.

The traditional wedding music included "Whither Thus In Holy Rapture," "O, Lord I Am Not Worthy," "Lord Who At Cana's Wedding Feast," "Ave Maria," "Oh Maiden, Oh Mother," and 'Panis Angelicus."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Michael J. Chrismer, Washington, D. C. She wore a waltz length gown of hand clipped rose point lace and tulle over bridal satin, with a fitted bodice Sabrina neckline, long fitted sleeves pointed at the wrists and a bouffant skirt. She wore a Juliet cap with a circular veil of matching lace with seed pearls and net illusion. She carried a

Little Optimism On Eve Of Foreign Ministers' Talks

By DAVE MASON

GENEVA (AP)—Big Four foreign ministers were headed here today with the Communists in a confident mood for the East-West talks opening Monday on Berlin, Germany and European security.

Western diplomatic sources cautioned against raising high hopes. There were prospects of a snarl at the outset on the agenda and procedure.

The Western powers have prepared a package plan. The Soviets want priority for Berlin and a German peace treaty. They object to bringing in Western plans for German unification and European security at the same time.

More argument may develop on whether outside powers may take part in the first Big Four foreign ministers parley since 1955.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was expected in town today at the head of a 17-man delegation.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, after a stopover in Bonn for a conference with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville were also due today.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, the last of the Big Four, is not coming until Sunday morning.

The East German Communists were set to get here before the main participants. Leaving Berlin, East German Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz said he was "full of optimism."

Consider Outsiders

The precise role—if any—of the East and West Germans at the conference is one of the first things to be brought up, along with possibly inviting other outsiders to take part.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano is due Sunday.

Italian Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella and the Polish and Czech foreign ministers are coming to

SAYS SPUTNIK HAS CHANGED CHURCH WORK

"Every parish program went out of date when Sputnik I went up," the Rev. G. Paul Musselman, executive secretary of Urban Industrial Church Work for the Episcopal church, said Friday in a lecture at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary in the closing hours of its 34th annual Seminary Week.

Citing problems of urban dwellers today, the Rev. Mr. Musselman said the church must help to recreate a sound family life but noted that "the usual parish practice goes against this need. He said people also must be given a sense of the "supernatural," a sense of the holiness of God.

He said also that the church must provide a place where people can take hold of the urban community's problems and offer a medium for searching out and working out answers to these problems.

Cites Urban Problems

Noting that 3,000 acres are being consumed daily by bulldozers to make way for new buildings, the speaker said city dwellers have certain characteristics today. Irritability and negativism are common, he said. Impersonality is created by unit rather than community living and this produces character abnormalities, excessive drinking and juvenile delinquency. Insecurity and emotionally excessive behavior are characteristic and hopelessness is implicit in much of our city culture, he added.

The industrial community and its religious problems were the topic of the speaker's second and final lecture. He said people are "shopping" for religion today. In that search, he said the typical executive considers first the clerical leadership, then the program for children, the location of the

TWO MISHAPS CAUSE $1,700 DAMAGE TODAY

Damage totaled $1,700 and one person was injured when a young woman driver fell asleep this morning at 12:45 o'clock while driving 11 miles west of here on the Lincoln Highway.

State police said Catherine E. Thompson, 21, Chamberburg R. 4, was driving west in her 1954 convertible when she fell asleep and her car crashed into the rear of a westbound fuel oil-laden tractor trailer operated by Thomas A. Zimmerman, 23, Hopewell R. 1. Damage to the truck owned by the New Enterprise Equipment and Supply Co. of New Enterprise, Pa., was confined to the fuel oil tank and was estimated at $100.

Multiple Lacerations

Miss Thompson suffered multiple lacerations of the face and contusions of both knees and was removed to the Chambersburg Hospital by a passing motorist.

The truck was driven to the side of the highway, but the badly damaged convertible could not be moved from the westbound lane.

Police said that while the auto was on the highway, Arthur Spence, 55, South Mountain, driving west, crashed into the rear of the convertible, completing the demolishing of that vehicle and causing $800 damage to his 1955 car.

IS RE-ELECTED UNICEF HEAD

Dr. Jacob W. Heikkinen was re-elected president of the Adams County organization for UNICEF at a meeting Friday evening of the board of directors held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, Oak Ridge. Other officers on a slate proposed by Mrs. William Barriga and C. P. Keefer were Mrs. Gifford, vice chairman; Mrs. Richard Wayburn, secretary; Mr. Keefer, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Codori, chairman of publicity; Mrs. Donald E. Horst, trick or treat chairman with Mrs. John Stahle and Mrs. Sterling Musselman, co-chairmen, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bruce, co-chairmen of the hi-neighbor committee.

NUMISMATISTS TO MEET

The Gettysburg Numismatic Society will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the court house basement meeting room. A coin quiz, auction, exhibit and displays will be features of this month's meeting.

Claim Record News Output

What may be a local record for a normal Friday production of news was attained yesterday when the Gettysburg Times published forty-one and one-half columns of "local news and photographs." This is equivalent to more than 41,000 words. This is exclusive of Associated Press news from the state, nation and the world.

While there is no record available to make a comparison, veteran members of the news staff believe that this is the largest production of "local news" on any given Friday (with the possible exception of some Friday when several major local events may have been held or conducted).

This tremendous production was achieved by the regular news staff and a few correspondents.

The Times is proud of this output. It is convincing proof that The Times always strives to publish all the news as and when it happens.

FAMED DUO TO GIVE CONCERT ON THURSDAY

The appearance of the Spivakovsky duo next Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Christ Chapel under the auspices of the Gettysburg Concert Association will mark one of the most unusual events of the season, the reunion of two far-flung members of a noted musical family for the first time professionally in 25 years. During this span, each has attained eminence in his own field and in different parts of the world. It will be the final concert of the season.

Tossy Spivakovsky, one of the foremost violinists appearing before the public, and his brother, Jascha, a leading pianist of Australia, combine to offer a joint program of violin and piano masterworks.

Tossy Spivakovsky has been a leading figure of the concert stage ever since his sensational American debute in 1943, introducing the Bartok Concerto, with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony. Time Magazine has named him "one of the most brilliant violinists alive." And when the virtuoso went to Eng-

Concert Program Announced Today

The program for the concert by the Gettysburg Symphony Orchestra, to be given next Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Gettysburg High School, was announced today by the conductor and musical director, Dr. William Sebastian Hart.

The program will cover a broad section of the musical literature of the world. The concert will open with the Toccata by Frescobaldi (arr. by the late Hans Kindler), the Symphony No. 101 known as the clock Symphony by Haydn, a new work by the American composer, Sidney Shapiro, called Mt. Vernon Polka; the Andante Cantabile by Tchaikovsky, and the symphonic suite Metropolitan Sketches by the Baltimore composer, Edmund R. Cooke.

The concert will close with the Overture to the Gipsy Barron by Strauss.

Heavy Calendar For School Board

The May meeting of the Gettysburg Joint School Board will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Room 126 at the high school building with a heavy business calendar.

There will be reports of committees, elections of teachers, election of a treasurer, a solicitor, attendance office, a dentist and two doctors and final adoption of the budget which received preliminary approval in April.

The directors are expected to make some decision about state-ordered changes at the Lincoln and Meade school building if both are to be used in the future.

Lewis Sheeley Is Sentenced To 1½-3 Years In Workhouse

Lewis D. Sheeley, 32-year-old Fairfield R. 1, bartender, who was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter by a jury this week, was sentenced today by Judge W. C. Sheely to from one and one-half to three years in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

Judge Sheely told the defendant "the court recognizes that you did not intend to kill the five people who were fatally injured in the accident you caused, but there is no doubt in the court's mind that you were under the influence of intoxicants and all persons who drive while under the influence are potential killers. I wish also to note that the sentence given you is the maximum that can be given."

Carlin Brown, 23-year-old Baltimore Negro, who escaped from the Adams County jail April 15, was sentenced to two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Pententiary on a charge of larceny involving the theft of a dress and skirt delivered by mail to Mrs. Theodore Schmitz, Carlisle St. He was given the same sentence, to run concurrently, on the charge of breaking jail and the same sentence, also to run concurrently, on a charge of larcency of a car which he had used after he escaped. He was given a suspended sentence on two charges of receiving stolen goods and was directed to pay the costs on all of the charges.

Sent To Workhouse

The court was told that, at the time of his original arrest on the charge of larceny of the dress, that he had in his possession at that time two keys, the property of Robert Steinberger, an antique pistol stolen from the home of former sheriff Dorsey Shultz and some cigarettes and miniature bottles stolen from the home of Mares Sherman.

When Brown appeared before the court he first said that he had pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny charges in connection with the thefts from the Steinberger, Sherman and Schultz homes but that, when he further told the court that he had not entered those homes but had received the articles stolen from them, the court disallowed the pleas of guilty to burglary and larceny and permitted the pleas of receiving stolen goods.

Elwood L. Macklin Jr., Topeka, Kan., who escaped from jail April 15 with Brown, was sentenced to one and one-half to three years in the Allegheny County Workhouse on the jail-break charge and to a similar period on a charge of larceny of a motor vehicle which he and Brown took from its parked position near the Ice and Storage Co. plant to help effect their escape.

HERE IN '22 AS NEWLYWEDS, PAIR RETURNS

On May 8, 1922, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Fitting, newlyweds then, had their pictures snapped at Spangler's Spring by a battlefield guide while they were on their wedding trip.

Friday afternoon, exactly 37 years later, the same couple stood by Spangler's Spring and had their picture taken again by an obliging Michigan tourist.

Enroute from Florida to their Nutley, N. J., home, the Fittings arrived in Gettysburg Friday, the 37th anniversary of their first visit here on their honeymoon. On their first trip they were enroute to Washington, D. C., from New York where they had been married in the Little Church Around the Corner.

"My father often joked about our first stop on our honeymoon being on a battlefield," Mrs. Fitting recalled Friday evening. They noticed many changes in Gettysburg and had a bit of difficulty in identifying the former Eagle Hotel where they had stayed overnight in 1922. This time they stopped at the Gettysburg Motor Lodge.

After the trip to Spangler's Spring, the couple climbed to the tower on Big Round Top. Today they continued their homeward journey.

Mr. Fitting for 32 years has been employed by the George Lamont and Son Company, manufacturers of safety paper, in Nutley where Mrs. Fitting, a registered nurse, is director of visiting nurses.

Lewis Sheeley

who escaped with Brown and Macklin, appeared for sentence but was remanded by the court to the custody of the sheriff until police make further investigation of his connection with the jail break.

Dorward Cecil Corvin, Wytheville, Va., charged with assisting in the jail break, was sentenced to 60 days in jail. The sentence will begin May 27, the date when his first term is to end. Corvin told the court, when asked why he assisted in the jail break, "I just went up to his cell and the next thing I got mixed up in it."

Three Hanover young men, James C. Imler, 18; William E. Imler, 22, and Robert L. Topper, 19, were each sentenced to 90 days in the Adams County jail and ordered to pay the costs on charges of assault and battery brought against them by four Littlestown youths, James A. Riley, Raymond C. Hilker, Larry R. Kline and Karl R. Bankert following a fight on the square in Littlestown February 13.

Suspend Sentence

The four Littlestown youths said they saw a commotion near a restaurant and stopped and the next thing they knew they were "hit and kicked." The Hanover men said they had gone for a ride, heard some names called, had stopped and each said that they got jumpy and "started hitting." The court said that this was the first instance of gang fights in the county and that he was going to break it up and then imposed the jail sentences .

Mrs. Mary Goulden, 52, R. 2, charged with pointing a firearm was given a suspended sentence for one year and ordered to pay $250 for the use of the county and the costs. Judge Sheely told Mrs. Goulden, "You are always operating close to the edge and that is why we directed suspension of the sentence for one year so that if you get into any trouble during the year you can be brought back and given a sentence on this charge."

Bruce E. Klinefelter, 20, R. 5, was given a suspended sentence on condition he pay $150 for the use of the county and the costs on a charge of driving while his license was suspended and was given a jail sentence of 90 days and ordered to pay the costs on a charge of larcency and fradulent conversion. Klinefelter was accused of having taken $2,500 from Kennie's Market while employed as a clerk there which Klinefelter said he planned to use in the construction of a home he was building near Granite Station. The court was told that $1,000 of the $2,500 was found in his possession at the time of his arrest and the other $1,500 had been spent on the home. The $1,500, however, has since been returned to the employer, the court was informed.

Warren Edward McDannell, 21, Orrtanna R. 1, was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year on condition that he pay $100 for the use of the county and the costs on a larceny charge. He was accused of stealing $30 worth of tools from an Aspers concern. The court was told the tools had been returned.

Charles Donald Reed, 18, Hanover R. 5; William David Noel, 19, R. 5, were each given suspended sentences and placed on probation for one year on condition that they make restitution of $10 and pay the costs on a larceny charge. The two said that they were gathering junk, their car overheated, they saw what they thought was a piece of tin lying near an unused shed and picked it up for junk. They said they were later stopped and told that what they had taken was a brooder stove and that they attempted to return it but could not.

Fannie Virginia Reed, Hanover R. 5, charged with larceny in the same case because the two young men were operating her car and trailer, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and the costs.

Norman Dennis Little, R. 5, charged with operating during suspension, was given a suspended sentence on condition that he pay $150 for the use of the county and costs.

Fred Williams, Harrisburg, charged with driving while under the influence, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and was ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and the costs.

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio stressed that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has several times stated Russia is willing to examine other proposals concerning a German peace treaty and the Berlin problem "so long as they are intended to relax world tension."

An English-language commentator said U.S. newspapers talked about an alternative American plan which would be put to the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

COUNTY COMES

mined to recruit additional manpower in the radiological division of the county CD principally from among mathematicians who could quickly provide the calculations needed to determine when rescue crews could venture abroad.

If a large bomb drops at York the county will still have electric power, Maurice Stoops, of the Metropolitan Edison Co., and C. A. Cluck, of the Adams Electric Co-operative, reported when the problem was presented.

J. Glenn Miller, agricultural and food expert for the CD committee, estimated that normal supplies of food on hand in the county, even with an additional 9,000 refugees in the area, would provide food for all in normal quantities for 10 days.

Could House 9,000

Mrs. John Diehl and Mrs. Pearl Wiser, welfare chairmen for CD, checked their lists of places available in the county for housing people including public buildings, schools, etc., and found the county could easily assimilate 9,000 refugees.

Mrs. Pauline Mowery and Mrs. Clara Bushey for the nursing service and Dr. Bruce N. Wolff for the physicians found that supplies were available to treat sick and wounded.

John Murren, CD fire chief, found that the 38 pumpers, eight ambulances, three rescue trucks and 3,966 firemen in the county could not only handle the problem here but six pumpers and 500 men could be spared to help other counties. Murren's calculations showed there are 30,860 feet of 2½-inch hose and 14,700 feet of 1½-inch hose on the fire trucks in the county and he estimated that for an emergency such as was listed in the problem 6,612 feet of 2½-inch hose and 2,940 feet of 1½-inch hose could be spared for use by other counties.

Water Supply Available

Robert Harner, Municipal Authority manager, reported water supplies available despite the bombings.

Walter B. Lane, communications chief, found that radio facilities available through amateurs, taxis and a number of business concerns could be used for communications throughout the county. Lane also made a plea for those industries, businesses, etc., which have set up radio networks between their plants and cars or trucks call him at Gettysburg 856 so he can bring his records up to date as to the number of radio communication vehicles in the county.

Heading up the staff exercise were CD Director Weaver, Roger Myers and C. A. Lediard, assistant directors; Fairfield CD Director Robert Reindollar, and Russell Norgan, demolition squad head.

WANT TO CUT N. O. WATER, SEWER COST

Possible ways of paring the cost of the proposed New Oxford sewage system and water system improvement were discussed in a session Friday afternoon between several members of the borough council, the municipal authority and representatives of Tracy Engineers, Inc., Harrisburg, designers of the project.

The prime target of the discussion was the proposed $200 per family sewer connection fee, which, several of the local officials said, was causing considerable protest from residents of the community.

Tracy Greenlund, of the engineering firm, said that the high connection fee was "required" by the banking firm which plans to submit a bid for the authority bonds which will finance the project. The objective of the high fee is to get a sizable amount of money in early so that a group of the bonds can be retired early. This was cited at a recent meeting as an advantage of the high fee since it would save some several thousands of dollars of interest annually during the 40 years that the bond issue will run.

Some Cuts Likely

Savings of $17,223 were suggested by the engineer as possible by elimination of several water line connections that were included in the original plans and by some changes in the proposed sewerage system.

This reduction in construction cost would bring the bond issue amount down to $850,000, Greenlund said, but would not affect the bond house's requirement for the $200 per unit connection fee.

The engineers agreed to explore with the low bidders for the construction, Reisinger Brothers, Inc., Carlisle, the possibility of making other cuts.

The $850,000 bond issue as currently proposed is somewhat under an estimate made several weeks ago, $890,000. Construction costs, under six contracts for various phases of the work, will come to $657,590. Purchase of the New Oxford Drainage Co. and acquisition of other lands and rights of way will cost $12,600 it is estimated.

Other Expenses

Financing expenses account for nearly $15,000 of the expected overall cost of the project. In this category are bond counsel fees, $6,500; local counsel fees, $4,875; fiscal report, $1,200; trustee fee, $600 and printing, $1,500.

Administrative expense during construction will cost an estimated $1,000. Interest during construction — before revenues from the system will be available — will be $61,200, for 18 months.

A fund of $30,226.64 is allotted to contingencies. This amount will be available for expenses not foreseen.

Engineering and inspection will cost $49,258. Cost of setting up the authority is estimated at $700. In addition, the authority will pay $4,750 for additional water meters so that all water services in the borough may be metered.

Charges for water and sewer service will be based on the amount of water used.

LOCAL YOUTH IS "SOLDIER OF YEAR" ABROAD

Sp4 John S. Wheeler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wheeler, 153 W. High St., has been named "Soldier Of The Year" by the 94th Engineer Battalion in Germany.

Copies of the orders naming the local soldier as the best in his battalion during 1958 were received Thursday by his parents here.

Specialist Wheeler, who plans to make the Army his career, graduated from Gettysburg High School in June, 1957, and a week after graduation entered the armed forces. While at high school here he served as captain of the football team and was outstanding also in track and baseball. He expects to be in Germany until March of 1960, when he will be given another Army assignment.

A member of Company B of the 94th Engineer Battalion, Specialist Wheeler was named "Soldier Of The Month" by the battalion in October. At that time he received letters of commendation from his battalion commander, Lt. Col. Earl B. Fauber, and his company commander, Captain Jack W. Roberts noting that the selection was on "the basis of your superior appearance and military bearing and outstanding knowledge of basic military subjects."

Wheeler was then selected as "Soldier Of The Year" as the best among the man named as "Soldier Of The Month" during the year. The citation by Colonel Fauber said: "Your selection as the Soldier of the Year means you are the best in the organization and as such a challenge and example to all others in the organization." Captain Roberts' accompanying letter of commendation stated: "The exemplary conduct and fidelity displayed by you as a member of this unit is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military. Your selection as Soldier of the Year reflects great credit upon yourself and this unit and has earned you the respect and admiration of the officers and men with whom you serve."

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Raiders broke into an Irish auction room early today and got away with a collection of rare stamps worth 500,000 pounds ($1,400,000).

The stamps were on public view Friday and were to have been sold at auction today.

The raid occurred at Shanahan's Stamp Auctions.

"The stamps are well known and burglars will not be able to benefit from their raid," said an official of the firm.

A police watch was set up at Irish seaports and airports an hour after the theft was discovered. The stamps were stolen from a safe.

church building, the quality of the music and worship service and finally the denominational affiliation.

Reporting on results of experiments the Episcopal church has made in motivating people to affiliate with a church, he said, "People really do not care whether there is a church in their community or not and the appeal of the church on an institutional basis is least effective."

Suggestions Given

He noted that an appeal for church affiliation on the basis that the end of the world is near has a great attraction for the despairing factory worker. "For the people in the industrial community, anyone who can speak to their troubles, help their children or alleviate their loneliness will get their attention," he said.

His suggestions for the modern church included: Learn to speak the truth in non-ecclesiastical terms, have the minister learn to relate himself to the work scene and to the workers on their jobs. The church should hold vocational conferences "to help laymen discover their role as Christians in our culture. The church must be alert because industrialization is becoming a religion competing with the Christian faith," he concluded.

Need For Change

Dr. Kendrick Grobel of Vanderbilt University gave two lectures Friday on "The Proclamation — Ever The Same" and "The Proclamation — Ever New." In his first lecture he gave four answers to the question: "What keeps the Gospel alive?" He said: "The Gospel lives because Christ lives, because the church lives, because of its sacraments which make visible the message of the gospel and because the Holy Spirit speaks and directs those who listen."

In his final lecture he discussed how the Gospel is to be made understandable to the contemporary world in which the church seeks to minister. "The proclamation must be ever new for if it does not charge the Gospel becomes irrelevant to man in his life," he said. He presented the thoughts of Rudolf Bultmann on an approach to the interpretation of the New Testament. Dr. Grobel has translated Bultmann's works into English.

PANAMA (AP)—Panama Friday pulled back troops rushed to the Caribbean coast during the invasion crisis and reported only one member of a Cuban force which landed two weeks ago still at large.

Five of the six Cubans who refused to surrender with the others in the expedition were captured Thursday night in a swamp near the port of Portobelo.

They were being brought to join the 85 already held in Panama City jail.

McKeldin To Stay In Public Life

BALTIMORE (AP) — Theodore R. McKeldin, who faces the prospect of being out of public office for the first time in over a decade, plans to remain active as an orator — if not as a politician.

When the 58-year-old Republican candidate for mayor of Baltimore was defeated overwhelmingly by Democrat J. Harold Grady, he said, in answer to a question by a newsman:

"Look relaxed? I am relaxed."

He said he would not withdraw from public life even temporarily. He said that he has a number of speaking engagements in the offing.

McKeldin said he had no plans for any strictly political activity but added that he would always be avidly interested in public life.

land for his debute there recently. The Times hailed him as a "master violinist."

Returns As Soloists

This winter, he returned as soloist with the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein playing the first local performances of the Roger Sessions Concerto and won an outstanding tribute from the press with Howard Taubman of The New York Times lauding his "brilliant, commanding performance" and naming him "in the forefront of violinists."

Jascha Spivakovsky, Russian-born and Berlin-educated, has, during many successful tours of Europe, played under Nikisch, Richard Strauss, Furtwangler, Sir Malcolm Sargent, Knappertsbusch, and other leading European conductors. He made his New York debut ten years ago, and then returned in 1952 for performances as soloist with the San Francisco Symphony under Pierre Monteux, which were acclaimed by the San Francisco News as "exciting discovery," the same newspaper adding, "It was a real pleasure to hear him, and the crowd gave him a big ovation." The pianist is now settled in Australia, where he gives frequent tours and has been associated with the Australian Broadcasting Commission.

Geneva, too.

It is expected if the Soviets insist on including such Communist states as Poland and Czechoslovakia that the West will counter by demanding a seat for Italy at the conference table.

If the Soviets reject the West's package plan—as they are expected to—the Allies may run into difficulties on reaching unanimity on a fall-back position.

The Western package includes: retention of western rights in Berlin, a phased reunification of Germany in which free elections would be the last stage instead of the first, and some form of controlled limitation of armament in central Europe for European security.

Yet what satisfaction there is in getting this decision made

Selecting your family lot in a cemetery where you have the privilege of erecting a suitable monument of granite or marble is one of the most important decisions your family will ever make.

Realize that by choosing now you can select a more suitable location in a traditional cemetery. You can arrange easy payments. And you can see that everything—monument, erection, landscaping—is exactly as your family wants it.

Today's Talk

THE WAITING ROOM

How many hours a day do you spend in the waiting room? For none of us ever travels in a stra path. We are constantly shifting gears, boarding planes, changing stations and taking journeys into strange countries.

Draw to your mind for an instant the picture of a railroad waiting room — people sitting with their luggage and holding their hands in their laps, idly glancing about the room. At this very minute this scene is being enacted in thousands of waiting rooms all over the world.

Think of the hours of possible improvement entirely lost. Think of the chances for plans pushed aside. Think of the dozen and one things that might be accomplished while in the waiting room.

Trite as it may sound, it is not so much the amount of time you use that counts as the amount of time you don't use at all.

As you go your way, grow your way. Thousands of books are manufactured that can be slipped almost into a vest pocket. A little notebook doesn't take much room. Nestled next to a pencil you have the working utensils for the shaping of ideas and for the working out of plans and for the stirring up of things — while in the waiting room, whether the waiting room be at a railroad station, in a street car, on the train, on a plane, or no matter where.

We cannot waste time. We can only waste ourselves.

Just Folks

MOTHER-LOVE

Somehow, I never understood,
Before our little baby came,
Why mother-love is sweeter far
Than other loves that bear the name.
I never understood just why
A mother's eyes would sparkle so
When she a little baby spied—
But now I know.

I've seen a mother drudge and toil
But uncomplaining all the while,
And quite forget her weariness
If but her little tot would smile.
And oft I marveled, wondering
How such a love as this could grow;
That was before our baby came,
But now I know.

And father-love is quite akin
To mother-love, it seems to me.
I've heard a father boast and brag
About the child upon his knee.
And I have wondered how a man
Could rave about a youngster so;
That was before our baby came,
But now I know.

A Bit Of History About
The Frederick Forster Murder

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

B. F. M. MACPHERSON
Frederick Smith, Murderer

The "Gettysburg Compiler" did an excellent "reporting" job on the Frederick Forster murder. When the crime was discovered the following report appeared in the local paper:—

"Brutal Murder — The Coroner of Adams County, Dr. Charles Horner, was, on Monday morning, November 27, 1848, caled upon to hold an inquest upon the body of Mr. Frederick Forster, found dead in his house, near Arendtsville, this county. The deceased was a Bachelor, about 53 years of age, lived entirely alone, and was supposed to have some money. He was observed carrying water from a neighbor's house on Thursday evening, as usual, and during the night was heard in conversation with another person, by those passing. Nothing was then seen of him until Monday morning, when a boy, passing his dwelling, happened to look into the window, and observed the room very much in disorder and blood upon the floor. He at once made known what he had seen, and the house was entered, and the dead body of Forster, with marks of violence upon it, discovered. It is not doubted that the deceased was cruelly murdered — on Thursday night, it is believed, decomposition having already commenced. The jury rendered a verdict accordingly.

Sustain Jury Verdict

"All the circumstances sustain the jury's verdict, and lead to the belief that a severe struggle had taken place. Several clubs besmeared with blood and hair were found, and the bedding and floor were bloody. A vessel of bloody water was also found in the kitchen, in which the murderer no doubt afterwards washed his hands. It is probable that the first object of the villain was to rob; but having roused his victim found it necessary to kill him, to attain his end. This is the general impression.

"Suspicion is attached to a person who came to this place (Gettysburg) on Friday evening, and while here had hair cut close and his whiskers removed. The overcoat and umbrella of Forster are missing — the former of plain brown material, sack fashion. The suspicious individual had on a coat answering this description, and had also an umbrella. He appeared to be about twenty-five or thirty years of age — rather bad countenance, with dull, heavy features, prominent upper lip, grey eyes, black hair, hollow cheeks, and heavy-set shoulders. Officers are after him, we are informed.

Native Of Bavaria

Mr. Forster was a native of Bavaria, born in 1795, emigrated to this country about 1833. He was a Tailor by trade, and of good character."

After publishing the details of the Forester murder the "Compiler" had nothing more to say until Monday, December 18, 1848 — at which time the case again made the "headlines."

"Arrest of the Supposed Murderer of Frederick Forster —

"On Wednesday night, December 13, 1848, a German named Frederick Smith was brought to this place from Reading, Pennsylvania, charged with the murder of Frederick Forster. It appears that Smith, who is a Weaver, some four years ago lived in the neighborhood of Arendtsville, and for some time worked in the house with Forster. On the night when the murder is supposed to have been committed, Smith was seen in the neighborhood, and recognized by several persons. After the murder suspicion was at once directed to him, and John Hoover proceeded to ascertain his whereabouts. He reached York and there found that a man answering Smith's description had forwarded a bag, directed to Reading, Pennsylvania; when he immediately went on there and, with the assistance of Alderman Betz and High Constable Morris, found the object of his search in the County Jail, where he had been committed a few days before, charged with robbing the boot of the Lancaster Stage of a trunk belonging to one of the passengers, while, it is supposed, on his way to this (Adams) county. Mr. Hoover next procured a search warrant and, in company with the High Constable, searched Smith's house, where a deed of Forster's property and several articles of clothing were found stained with blood. At the examination the prisoner denied all knowledge of the deed, as well as having been in Adams County within four years.

Sent Note To Friend

"Smith, however, appearances being against him, was committed; after which additional circumstances came to light. Among other things it was ascertained that, a few days previous to his arrest for murder, the prisoner sent a note directed from the jail to a friend relative to the deed of Forster's property (afterwards found in his house) regarding its destruction, as is supposed. The bag which he had sent from York, Pennsylvania, was received by way of Philadelphia, and found to contain two ready-made vests, a tweed coat, a piece of cassinet, a cloth coat ready cut, with buttons, trimmings, and the measure of the individual for whom it was intended — which articles were recognized as having been in Forster's house previous to his murder, but since missing.

"These faces being known, the prisoner was brought to this place (Gettysburg) by John Hoover, accompanied by James G. Reed and William B. McClellan, Esqrs., and lodged in jail. On Thursday morning he (Smith) was taken before Esquire J. B. Danner for a hearing. The prisoner, among among other things, said that he got possession of the deed by purchasing a shirt, on the road near Lancaster, from a person who seemed to be travelling. He said he knew nothing of the deed until he opened out the shirt intending to wear it. The prisoner does not answer the description of the person who appeared at this place (Gettysburg) on the Friday after the murder, and had his hair and whiskers shortened, and against whom suspicion was at first directed. Esquire Danner committed Smith to the County Jail (at that time in the basement of the Courthouse, located in tthe middle of the square) to await further action of the law."

Tries Suicide

In the same issue of the "Compiler" there was another item pertaining to Frederick Smith:

"Attempted Suicide—On Thursday night, Frederick Smith, the prisoner, endeavored to commit suicide, by making incisions in both wrists. As soon as the discovery was made, Dr. Horner was called in. He dressed the wounds, which had bled sufficiently to cause the prisoner to faint. He (Smith) said he had made the incisions with a piece of glass, for the purpose simply of 'bleeding himself,' but a close examination of the room was made, and a piece of an old razor was found concealed in a crevice in the wall, which was no doubt the instrument used."

A true bill was found against Frederick Smith at the January (1849) term of Court, but he was not tried until the August term. Apparently the prosecution needed time to collect and compile evidence — for the prisoner did not, at any time, confess to the crime of which he was accused.

From a panel of forty-eight, eleven jurors were obtained — namely John Musselman Jr., Frederick Bittinger, James Petterson, John C. Ellis, David Trimmer, Peter Smith, Peter R. Noel, Joseph Kepner, James Thompson, George Culp, Peter Sell and Robert Cobean.

Chain of Evidence

Witness after witness wove a chain of circumstantial evidence around the prisoner — the result of his greed and blinding ignorance. Every step was traced from the time he (Smith) left Reading, Tuesday, November 21, 1848, until he entered the house of Frederick Forster Thursday night, November 23, between nine and ten o'clock; and then back again until he reached his home in Reading on Sunday, November 26.

Pertinent details of Frederick Smith's trial for murder were taken from the court records and newspaper accounts published at the time as follows:—

As was to be expected the court room was crowded. The prisoner was in charge of Messrs. Stahle and Heinerd, acting as deputies of the sheriff. Smith appeared to be "entirely indifferent to the scene transpiring around him."

David McConaughty, Esq., for the prosecution, addressed the jury in an opening speech, lasting about half an hour, in which he gave the details of the evidence which the Commonwealth intended to present.

Jacob Kechler, first witness called by the prosecution, stated that he lived in Arendtsville, this county, about three or four hundred yards from Frederick Forster's house. On the Monday morning following the murder, he (Kechler) sent a boy "over to get Forster to make some clothes, who, looking into the window of the Forster house, saw blood and came back to me. That was about nine or ten o'clock in the morning. I went to Forster's house, looked into the window, saw something was wrong and went back to Arendtsville to get assistance, and returned. The doors of the house were locked, we go in through a kitchen window. Found the body of Forster on the floor, his head and the upper part of his body on the feather-bed, which was wrapped around the head —."

These notes will be continued in a future column.

Two Jet Bombers Collide; One Killed

SHAW AIR FORCE BASE, S.C. (AP) — One airman was killed and five others escaped injury near here Friday when two Air Force jet bombers collided.

One plane crashed in flames, carrying its navigator, Capt. Julian T. Stewart, 32, of Miami, Fla., to his death. The other limped back to base, its fuselage severely damaged.

Three RB66 twin-jet reconnaissance bombers were practicing formation routines at 11,500 feet. Eyewitnesses said a wing of the bomber which crashed collided with the underside of one of the other bombers.

PROFESSOR SHORTAGE
Universities Raid Smaller Colleges But Colleges Can't Raid High Schools

By JIM DAN HILL, PH.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

THE SHORTAGE of professional talent began to jar the small colleges about five years ago. The exodus of Ph.D.'s from the classrooms was apparent. Temporary appointments of applicants with sub-standard credentials became common. But these were not to tenure professional ranks.

Jim Hill

No one worried. The large graduate schools were turning out more well trained scholars than ever before. Some thought it a healthy trend. Too many faculties were static, some said.

But industry's demand not only for scientists but also for psychologists, sociologists, economists, linguistic experts and even historians, has multiplied. Much of the annual output of graduate school Ph.D.'s are now hired before the small colleges have a chance to bid for their services.

THE LARGE UNIVERSITIES, whose graduate schools confer the doctoral degree, are in a more fortunate position. They try to skim the cream of their crop of new Ph.D.'s for their teacher replacements. Sometimes they effect exchanges of young talent with othed universities to avoid "inbreeding."

The smaller universities and colleges are not angered by this smugly smooth practice. Theye merely observe it with envy.

But quite often the chosen, young doctors are money hungry. Thoughts of university teaching prestige are flattering, but they cannot write it on a bank's deposit slip. They hearken unto industry's $iren $ong. Thereupon the university raids some small college faculty for promising Ph.D.'s.

THE LARGE UNIVERSITY dean does not always offer a higher salary. He trades on the prestige factor. He often expects the invited small college professors to accept as the same or an even lower figure than the smaller institution is paying.

Professors Caplow and McGee, in their recent book, "The Academic Marketplace," stress this prestige factor.

Frankly, it is my not-always-humble opinion that they greatly overestimate it. Certainly the Ph.D.'s this college has lost to larger universities have negotiated extremely good increases in both rank and salary in making the shift.

On the other hand, only last week we handled the credentials of a young sociologist Ph.D. He listed himself available at $5,500 as an assistant professor in a "major league" university but would have to have $6,500 for the same rank in a smaller university or college.

To him, prestige was worth exactly a cool thousand. But this is the first specific price tag on prestige I have seen.

THE OBVIOUS CONCLUSION is that if the large colleges and universities are able to recruit from the campuses of the smaller, what is wrong with these smaller institutions trading on their prestige and perhaps better salaries to raid the high schools for the better teachers.

There are indeed many superb teachers in the high schools fully, competent to handle lower college courses. But there are serious complications. Few high school teachers have more than a Master's degree.

Such degrees are often acceptable for a temporary instructorship with restricted academic duties. But the M.A. is now considered strictly "substandard" for permanent appointment to a professorial rank that carries responsibility not only to handle the higher departmental courses but also to grow professionally with the modern, expanding collegiate curriculums.

SOME OF THE YOUNGER, restless and more venturesome high school teachers with Master's degrees rich in academic content do not mind the temporary aspect of this situation. They welcome a try at college teaching.

Some are able to upgrade their credentials to the doctoral level rapidly and achieve permanent appointments from a subsequent temporary assignment if not in the first college of their higher level teaching experience.

But the vast majority of seasoned, high school teachers with Master's degrees will have none of it. Most have tenure where they are. Often the high school salary exceeds that of the college instructorship. For them the game is not worth the candle.

College administrators are often tempted to ignore the Ph.D. requirements. But this invites disaccreditation by one or more of the powerful associations. Thus to sacrifice the credit transfer privileges of alumni and an entire student body merely to favor a teacher with less than standard credentials is something no conscientiious dean, head of a department or college president is willing to do.

Thus smaller colleges are thus forced into an exceptionally high turn-over in the rank of instructor into the indefinite future.

200 TRAPPED AS BOAT SINKS

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Divers searched the brown waters of the Nile today for bodies trapped in a packed excursion boat which sank amid wild confusion with some of Egypt's top agricultural engineers.

Police figures indicated perhaps 200 persons were missing—many of them women and children—in the holiday party of government workers and their families.

The 200-ton doubledecker Dandara rolled over just off shore Friday so fast that it was impossible to determine how many passengers succeeded in getting off. Many never had a chance.

Police estimated 100 were saved but the number lost may never be known for the outing tickets were sold in family blocks. Whole families drowned together.

A government communique gave no clue to the cause of the disaster.

One of the first to reach the scene was President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, who personally directed the rescue of some passengers struggling in the water.

BURGLARS DID IT

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — The alley window at the Masciotra Bookkeeping Service was stuck—nobody could open it from the inside. Friday night burglars got it open and took $148.

33 Purchased At Little League Auction; Squads Begin Drills On Monday

A total of 33 Little League candidates were bought at the annual Little League auction Friday evening at the Elks home with 11 managers and coaches taking part. Included among the candidates bought at the auction were five boys who have brothers either playing or coaching.

New Little Leaguers will include: Moose — Charles Wolfe, Craig Swinn, Larry Shindledecker, Jay Baker and Timothy Whittinghill; Elks — Samuel Teeter, Paul Wolfe, Richard Warren, Jeffrey Singley and Michael Krick; Rotary — Rance Smith, Robert Davies, Jack Hartman, Andrew Teeter, Gerald Wisotzkey and Kenneth Gebhart; Glenn L. Bream — Daniel Brown, Donald McCans and Douglas Weikert; Lions — David Eden, Daniel and David Bream, James Ritchie, Charles Buckley, Robert Little, Michael Pinko, Jerry Sanders and Willis Musselman; Gettysburg National Bank — Walter Toddes, John Eyler, Ronald Doerson, James Rowe and Nelson Wansel.

May Be Dropped

Immediately following the auctions, the managers strongly emphasized that even though these players have been picked and played for by the respective teams, the teams have the right to drop any player five days before the opening game. As it stands five teams will probably retain the players that they have bought. One team is overloaded and will have to cut their roster to 15 players within the specified time according to Little League rules.

Each manager did his best to pick out the outstanding players trying out during the past three weeks. The managers strongly urge all those who did not make a team to continue their baseball activities in the highly competitive minor leagues which will begin sometime in June.

All six Little League teams will begin pre-season practices on Monday evening at 6. Practice fields for the squads will be as follows: Moose will work out on the softball diamond at the Recreation Park; Elks will practice on the diamond at the corner of Long Lane and Breckenridge St.; Rotary, Gettysburg National Bank and Lions will drill on the college fields behind the tennis courts north of West Broadway, and the Glenn L. Bream team will practice on the college field at the end of West Broadway.

VEECK HEADS SOX

CHICAGO (AP)—The executive structure of the Chicago White Sox underwent a major change Friday with the election of Bill Veeck, majority stock holder, as president. Chuck Comiskey, who owns 46 per cent of the club, was named executive vice president. Hank Greenberg, former major league baseball star, was named vice president. Veeck becomes the club's first president since Mrs. Grace Comiskey who died Dec. 10, 1956.

Rosters Close Monday Night For Big League

Tryouts for the Big League, for boys 16-19 years of age, have been completed and final rosters will be compiled at a league meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the VFW Home when an auction will be held to purchase players taking part in the tryouts.

Pat McDermitt, vice president of the league, today emphasized the importance of other boys notifying him by Monday if they desire to play in the league.

He has asked all eligible players moving up from the Big Little League, as well as other boys throughout Adams County desiring to play, to telephone him at 1096.

In addition, players on rosters from last year's Big League teams who wish to play must notify their coaches or sponsors by Monday. Failure to do so will result in replacements being named Monday when rosters will be closed.

INDIANS BEAT CHICAGO SOX ON THREE HITS

By ED WILKS

Those Cleveland Indians are socko with Rocco.

Take Friday night. They managed just three hits at Chicago, but Rocky Colavito had two and drove in three runs, ripping a tie-breaking, two-run homer in the sixth that put away a 3-1 victory.

Friday night's success, the fourth in a row for unbeaten right-hander Cal McLish, padded Cleveland's American League lead to three games once more as Boston and Frank Sullivan whipped second-place Baltimore 5-1. Detroit scored three in the ninth for a 5-4 victory over Kansas City in the only other AL game scheduled.

Right-hander Dick Donovan 1-1 of the White Sox gave up all three of Cleveland's hits in his six innings, getting past everybody but Minnie Minoso and Colavito. Minoso singled with one out in the fourth inning, stole second and then gave the Indians a 1-0 lead on Rocky's single.

Sox Get 5 Hits

In the sixth, Minoso walked with two out and came across on Colavito's smash into the upper left field deck at Comiskey Park.

The White Sox had just five hits off McLish, scoring in the fourth on Jim Landis' second home run while losing their fifth in a row and sinking to .500 in fourth place, 4½ games behind.

Sullivan, a big 6-7 right-hander, gave up only five singles along with two walks while squaring his record at 1-1 for Boston. The Red Sox had just three hits for seven innings, but held a 2-0 lead over southpaw Billy O'Dell (1-1). They scored in the first on a walk, passed ball, error and Frank Malzone's sacrifice fly, then counted again in the fourth on a walk and Don Buddin's double.

2 Solo Homers

Sullivan finally got some breathing room in the seventh, when Boston scored three with Pete Runnels and Jackie Jensen hitting solo home runs. It was Jensen's seventh, Runnels' second.

Singles by Harvey Kuenn and Lou Berberet got the Tigers rolling in the ninth against Ray Herbert (1-3), who then was tagged for a tying triple by Frank Bolling —who kept right on running with the winner as Heck Hopez bobbled the relay from the outfield. It was the first victory in six one-run decisions for the Tigers and it went to Ray Narleski, a four-time loser who won his first with two innings of perfect relief.

Bob Cerv drove in three Kansas City runs off Don Mossi with a triple and a sacrifice fly. The Tigers had two runs but only four hits—one Berberet's second homer —for eight innings.

TOMMY JACOBS LEADS TOURNEY 11 UNDER PAR

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—If it hadn't been for a small golf tournament in Gardena, Calif., in December 1957, Tommy Jacobs probably wouldn't be leading the Oklahoma City Open today with an 11-under-par 133.

Tommy, a personable 24-year-old professional from Whittier, Calif., posted rounds of 66-67 over the 6,640-yard par 72 Twin Hills Country Club course Friday and was in fine position for his first win of the 1959 Professional Golf Assn. tour.

But his task wasn't an easy one. Breathing down his neck as the third round opened were former Masters champion Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., and steadily improving Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla.

Eagles And Birdies

Palmer overcame an opening 73 with a barrage of eagles and birdies for a 64 in the second round for a 137 total. Goalby was at the same figure with rounds of 69-68.

Jacobs recalled that he had only $100 in his pocket in 1957 and when that was gone he would have had to give up the golf tour. But in Gardenia there was a small tournament worth $700 to the winner. Tommy won it and that was the stake he needed to stay on the tour.

He was a steady money winner last year and his position in the golf world was enchanced by a victory in the Denver Open last year with a fine 266.

TED WILLIAMS TELLS HURLERS OF BEST PITCH

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, baseball's keenest student of such matters, has some advice for pitchers—Beware the inside toss.

"Pitchers should watch games closely on television," the 40-year-old Boston star said today after a Fenway Park workout. "They'd soon learn the inside pitches are the ones that hurt them."

Sidelined since late March due to a neck and shoulder ailment, the defending American League batting champion is going through a reconditioning program expected to return him to action Tuesday.

"The pitch from the middle of the plate in to the batter is the one that kills them nine out of 10 times," Ted said.

"Safest Pitch"

"I've been saying it all along but invariably the pitchers have an argument against it. Now I know I'm right. Nine out of 10 times the batter creams the inside pitch."

Williams explained that while he was recuperating he watched baseball closely on TV.

"The pitch away from the batter proves the safest in the book," he said.

"Sure the real good hitter can protect against the outside pitch. But I say let the good batter protect it. That's the pitch he'll hit for only a single. At most he might get a double on it.

"But there is no home run on the outside pitch."

"Say, what am I giving out this information for? I'm a hitter. Those pitchers should find out things for themselves."

Former Champ Leads Tournament

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP) —Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., held a one-stroke lead today as the field of the first Southern Pines Invitation Golf Tournament started the second round.

The former U.S. amateur champ blazed around the 6,424-yard Mid Pines course with a 68, four under par, as play in the women's 54-hole tournament opened Friday.

At Mary Lena's heels were Joyce Ziske of Milwaukee, Wis., and Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kan., each with 69. Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif.; Joanne Prentice of Birmingham, Ala.; and Fay Crocker of Montivideo, Uruguay, followed with 72.

The inaugural event, worth $6,000, ends Sunday. The field includes 42 pros and several selected amateurs.

Baseball Buzzing With Trade Talk

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The baseball world is buzzing with Philadelphia Phillies' trade talk.

General Manager John Quinn of the Phillies, who is making an extended road trip with the club, says he has several irons in the fire.

"We have made propositions to several clubs and we are now waiting to hear from them," Quinn said Friday.

Some observers felt a trade was imminent because when the club left Philadelphia Thursday to open a five-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates the players were given meal money for only three days instead of the customary week or more.

Stitch, A Hero, Trounces Ortega

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Rudy Stitch, a hero, said today he would fight "anybody that's ranked" after chopping out an impressive decision over Gaspar (Indian) Ortega.

Stitch, 26-year-old church elder from Louisville, Ky., had the wiry Ortega bloody and reeling after a fast 10 rounds in their welterweight scrap Friday night.

His victory came only hours after Stitch was awarded the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission's bronze medal for dragging a man from the swift Ohio River in September 1958.

A national radio and television audience saw Stitch almost finish Ortega in the third and eighth rounds, staggering the Indian from Mexicali, Mexico, with crisp lefts and rights.

EVICT 15 FROM CHAVEZ RAVINE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There was no joy in Chavez Ravine today — just the sound of bulldozers clearing the site for the Los Angeles Dodgers' new ballpark.

Fifteen residents were evicted from three condemned homes amid screaming, crying and cursing Friday.

"Why don't they play ball in (mayor) Poulson's backyard—ot in ours!" Mrs. Abrana Arechiga, 63, shouted in Spanish at 14 sheriff's deputies.

Poulson supported the stadium deal.

The mayor's office said the home was condemned years ago, before the Dodgers came to town. The land was taken under eminent domain powers as a site for a housing development which never came about. The sale to the Dodgers came after the housing plan had been scrapped.

CINCINNATI BEATS BRAVES FOR THIRD TIME

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It begins to look as if the Cincinnati Reds are at last catching up with the Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves have beaten a path to a pair of National League pennants by trampling the Reds the past two years. In 1957, Milwaukee won 18 of its 22 games with Cincinnati. Last season it was 17 of 22.

Now the Reds have taken three of five decisions this season, winning three in a row from the Braves for the first time since 1956. And they've done it the hard way—beating Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette.

First Place Tie

They junked Burdette's winning string at nine—five this season—with a 3-2 victory at Milwaukee Friday night that gained a virtual first-place tie with the Braves. Going into today's game—another run-in with Spahn—the Reds are second by a mere .009 percentage point margin.

San Francisco also closed in, replacing Los Angeles in third, just a half-game behind the leaders, by whipping the Dodgers 9-3. The Chicago Cubs are 1½ games back after a 10-inning, 3-2 victory at St. Louis. Philadelphia regained a sixth-place tie with Pittsburgh by beating the Pirates 8-1.

Antonelli Wins Fourth

Burdette, who had won 10 straight in Milwaukee's County Stadium since last July, gave up four of the Reds' seven hits and all of their runs in the first inning. A two-run double by Frank Robinson and a triple by Frank Thomas did the damage.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli, who had lost two in a row, won his fourth for the Giants after giving up the Dodger runs on five hits in the second inning.

Randy Jackson, just returned to the Cubs by way of a trade with Cleveland, tripled in the 10th after a two-out single by winning reliever Bill Henry (3-1).

Gene Conley, the ex-Brave, gained his first victory since 1957 in his first start for the Phils. He had to leave in the ninth, however, when a line drive by Smoky Burgess nicked a pitching-hand finger. George Witt (0-4) lost it, giving way in a three-run fourth.

SILKY COMES FROM BEHIND TO WIN $7,500

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Silky Sullivan, bless his handsome hide, is back to torment and perhaps delight his loyal admirers.

The golden chestnut came back to the races Friday and won.

It was Silky's first serious work since he disgraced himself by running sixth at Santa Anita last New Year's Day.

You'll recall he had let his backers down in shameful fashion in the 1958 Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

But Friday, in true heart-throb manner, Silky came from some 15 lengths off the pace in a 6-furlong sprint to win the $7,500 Roy Campanella Purse at Hollywood Park in 1:09 1-5.

Campy Greets Silky

Campanella, the paralyzed Dodger catching star, greeted Silky in the winner's circle. Roy confided he had bet $2 on another horse but was glad Silky won.

He and Silky have a lot in common in comebacks. Campy is lucky to be alive after the automobile accident that ended his brilliant career.

Trainer Reggie Cornell must have had a long talk with Silky, maybe about his diet. Silky, now a slim, trim beauty, must have trained off some 200 pounds from his 3-year-old days.

And the way he stormed down the middle of the track, flying past horses, was a caution.

His legs, which put him out of action, apparently held up well.

Cornell said he'll continue tub treatments, however, and will decide later when Silky performs again at the meeting.

Conley Temporarily Shelved With Injured Finger After Beating Pittsburgh 8 To 1

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gene Conley nursed a sore middle finger on his pitching hand today and bemoaned the injury may keep him out of action temporarily after a brilliant 8-1 triumph in his first starting assignment for the Philadelphia Phillies.

The lanky 6-8 righthander barely got out of the way of a smoking shot from the bat of Smoky Burgess of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the ninth inning of Friday night's game at Forbes Field.

It appeared to the crowd of 17,691 that the ball hit Conley in the head. His hat dropped to the ground and he stood there dazed for a few seconds before he was led off the field by a trainer.

Put Finger In Splint

"This would have to happen," said Conley somewhat disgusted in the dressing room later. "I felt real good getting this chance and look what happens. Just look at this finger. Do you think it is broken?"

Dr. Joseph Finegold, the Pirates' team physician hastily summoned to the Phillies dressing room, assured Conley after a preliminary examination that the finger did not appear to be broken. He advised him to have it put in a splint and keep ice on it until an x-ray could be taken.

"I'm glad it didn't hit me in the head," said Conley. "It was a vicious shot. I just threw my hand up in time. I thought I could continue but the finger began to swell and stiffen."

18 Scoreless Innings

Conley, obtained in a trade with Milwaukee, went into the game with a streak of 10 scoreless innings and ran it to 18 before the Pirates counted a single run in the eighth on a single by Dick Groat, a double by Billy Virdon and a sacrifice fly.

It was Conley's first triumph since he beat St. Louis 4-2 on Sept. 23, 1957. He struck out seven and didn't allow a walk. Last year with the Braves he was 0-6.

In 20 innings so far this season for the Phillies, the 25-year-old righthander has allowed only 14 hits, walked two and struck out 18.

Blast 4 Buc Hurlers

The Phillies bombarded four Pirate hurlers for 13 hits and chased George Witt with three-runs in the fourth inning. The loss was Witt's fourth straight without a victory.

The Phillies jumped on Witt in the fourth for three runs on a single by Ed Bouchee, a hit batsman and three straight singles by George Anderson, Carl Sawatski and Conley.

In the fifth, they got two more on a single by Granner Hamner and back-to-back-doubles by Wally Post and Harry Anderson. The Phillies added one off R. G. Smith in the eighth and two more in the ninth off Ronnie Blackburn.

Burgess, who returned to the Pirates lineup after being sidelined with a hand injury since last Tuesday night, continued his hot hitting streak with two of the hits off Conley.

Bob Skinner, hitless in 31 trips to the plate, finally broke out of the slump with a double in the seventh.

DELONE RALLY TRIPS L-TOWN FRIDAY 8-5

After spotting Littlestown a 3-0 lead in the first two innings, the Delone Catholic baseball team pounded over six runs in the top of the fourth inning and went ont to an 8-5 victory at Littlestown Friday afternoon.

The triumph snapped a three-game losing streak for the Squires and also leveled their record at 4-4. Littlestown is now 7-4 for the season.

Ronnie Asper was the winning hurler but gave way to Bill Solomon in the final inning. Asper, who connected for a double, was credited with knocking in a pair of runs. Fred Murren rapped two singles and a double and batted in another tally.

Darryl Bollinger was the big gun for Littlestown with four singles in as many trips to the plate and pounded over three runs.

Littlestown entertains Biglerville in an Adams County League game Tuesday at Littlestown. Delone will be idle until May 19 when Spring Grove will be met on the Squires' field.

MOUNT LOSES FINAL GAME TO BALTIMORE

Mt. St. Mary's couldn't hold onto a 4-1 lead built up in the first three innings and lost its final game of the season Friday to the University of Baltimore 9-5 at Emmitsburg. The Mountaineers finished the season with an overall 3-10 record.

Fran Steedman, who went the route for Baltimore, fanned 11 and gave up seven hits, three of which were off the bat of Luke Fannon.

Vadas, starting Mount hurler, gave up seven runs and yielded nine hits in five innings and was charged with the loss.

Three homeruns were smacked during the game. Frank Derosa poled one for the Mountaineers while George Politz and Fred Brocklander each connected for one for the Bees.

Baltimore finished fourth in the Northern Division of the Mason-Dixon Conference while the Mount was relegated to fifth place.

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike by nonprofessional and housekeeping workers against six nonprofit hospitals enters its second day today with union threats against 15 others.

The six hospitals—all privately supported in contrast to city hospitals—were struck Friday morning by 2,000 members of the Retail Drug Employes Union, and picket lines were set up.

ALLENTOWN WINS 6 IN ROW

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Allentown Red Sox are red hot.

The Eastern League leaders won their sixth straight victory Friday night by defeating York 10-3.

Arnold Early gave up 12 hits but struck out 12 in gaining the victory. He also helped with a two-run homer. Zeke King banged out his seventh home run and Jerry Mallett rapped a four-bagger to spark Allentown.

Springfield trounced Williamsport 8-4 on the strength of four runs in the 10th inning. Williamsport reliever Marco Mainini brought about his own downfall when he bobbled a sacrifice bunt, and then threw into the right field bullpen, permitting two runners to score. Marty Alou's second homer of the game with one aboard accounted for the other two runs.

Rally To Win

Lancaster came from behind for a 9-7 victory over Reading with Don Bridges, the fourth pitcher for the Red Roses, turning in a fine four-hit performance in the final five innings.

Binghamton's Triplets edged Albany 3-2 in the ninth inning to end a four-game losing streak and hand the Senators their fifth loss in a row. Dick Bogard homered to tie the score for Binghamton in the eight. Jack Davis, who drew one of two ninth inning walks scored the winning run on a wild throw by Alex George.

Farm Agent Says Bass And Bluegills In Farm Ponds Are Biting; Keep Balance

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Now is the best time of year for farm pond bass fishing. However there is a right to harvest the bass in a farm pond if you want to maintain a productive fish population.

Frank S. Zettle

The average farm pond stocked with bass and bluegill will produce about four pounds of bluegill for each pound of bass. This makes the pond primarily a "bluegill" pond. In order to maintain a desirable balance between numbers and size of bass and bluegill, the pond owner should see that the fish are removed at the rate of about 10 bluegills to each bass.

Bass begin biting in ponds as soon as the water starts to warm up and water in ponds usually warms quicker than in lakes or streams. It's a little early for bluegill fishing. They generally start biting in May.

For ponds were bass are scarce it would be advisable to go early on the bass harvest but concentrate on a heavy bluegill catch this spring.

Wheel Track Corn Planting

A number of Pennsylvania corn growers are using wheel track corn planting, the new idea in corn culture. This method can save you approximately 40 per cent of your tillage costs.

Wheel track planting should save about five dollars an acre over the usual method of planting corn. This new method can be used on most any soil types in the state.

The corn is planted on freshly plowed ground in a seedbed prepared by the tractor wheels. This eliminates disking and harrowing but in a few cases the farmers have disked once. In order to mix the organic matter throughout the soil it would be well to disk before plowing. The rough loose soil between rows reduces run off absorbing moisture. Erosion may also be reduced on old hay and pasture land because it isn't plowed until you're ready to plant the corn.

Fast Germination

Planting corn in the tractor wheel track will improve corn germination especially in dry years. The depth of kernel placement is uniform and the freshly plowed furrow usually contains enough moisture to germinate the seed rapidly.

Pre-emergence treatment with a chemical weed killer at planting time or spraying five to seven days after planting will delay the first cultivation for a period of two weeks or longer.

Liquid fertilizers when used as a soil application is a perfectly good form on fertilizer. It should be considered simply as a dry fertilizer that has been totally dissolved in water. Liquid fertilizers are applied at the same rates and at the same time as dry fertilizers.

Proper Measurements

If 300 pounds of a 5-10-10 fertilizer is to be used at time of seeding, 300 pounds of a 5-10-10 liquid fertilizer may be used. In other words 100 pounds of a 5-10-10 liquid fertilizer is equivalent to 100 pounds of a 5-10-10 fertilizer. Liquid fertilizers weigh about 10 pounds per gallon, therefore 10 gallons would be equal to 100 pounds of dry fertilizer of the same analysis.

Liquid fertilizers are not recommended as a foliar or leaf application for field crops. Considerable research has shown that for liquid fertilizers to be equal in value to dry fertilizers they must be applied at the same rate. If applied to the leaves in one application burning will occur. Therefore, to prevent burning, applications of small amounts of six to eight times during the growing season must be made. This become quite expensive and very inefficient.

The Weeders Guide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. (AP) — Chlordane, lindane and malathion may sound like a law firm or an outfield but they are among the more popular representatives of a family which most of us dream will give us the most handsome gardens ever: the wonder chemicals.

The new pesticides have been coming along so fast and been improved so steadily and have such jaw-breaking names that most of us must put our faith completely in the manufacturer and in our ability to read the "directions for use" with complete concentration.

Actually the new miracle garden chemicals are as effective and as labor and crop-saving as they are held out to be. But they are also powerful and tricky. A careless gardener can do more damage in one session with an aerosol bomb or a hose sprayer than all the bugs could do in a couple of seasons.

All Have Peculiarities

There are literally hundreds of them, and manufacturers have their own brand names for some formulations. They all have special uses. And they all have some peculiarities. And they all should be used cautiously. The average gardener would do well to make a careful selection of a very few, plan his bug-control program, and stick to it faithfully.

It is the responsibility of the gardener to find out what chemical works on which bug — and to know just what his problem is. One preparation may not work in combination with nicotine sulphate; another may kill bugs well, but also kill certain varieties of plants. Still others may be unwise to use on vegetables because of residues which cannot be washed off easily.

Another Problem

Still another problem is making certain that some of last week Spray X is not left accidentally in the sprayer which this week will hold Spray A. This was not such an important item in the simple old days when the average anti-bug armory consists of a few preparations of rotenone, nicotine, sulphur and such.

Actually, many of the new ones —the insecticides, fungicides and miticides — come in their own containers, some of which may be reused. There are plastic dusters, aerosol bombs and hose sprayers which merely have to be screwed onto the nozzle end of a hose and sprayed on the plant. All of these eliminate the necessity of doing a complete cleaning job after each use. But make sure that each container is carefully

Modern Warfare Costly

I am certain that modern warfare against the garden bugs is more expensive than it was when we mixed up our own spray formulas, but I think it is more efficient. For one thing one uses less of the spray. An aerosol bomb, for instance, provides a lethal fog in an area and the user is cautioned not to drench the plant. The hose attachment mixes chemical and water in proper proportions and the spray is easily controlled.

What to use, of course, is still the decision of the gardener. As far as I know, there is no handbook available annually which compiles the very newest information on the subject for the amateur—and it would be a handy thing to have around.

One thing is certain: chemicals have come a long way in gardening in the last decade. Gardeners must plan for them as carefully as they lay out their flower beds.

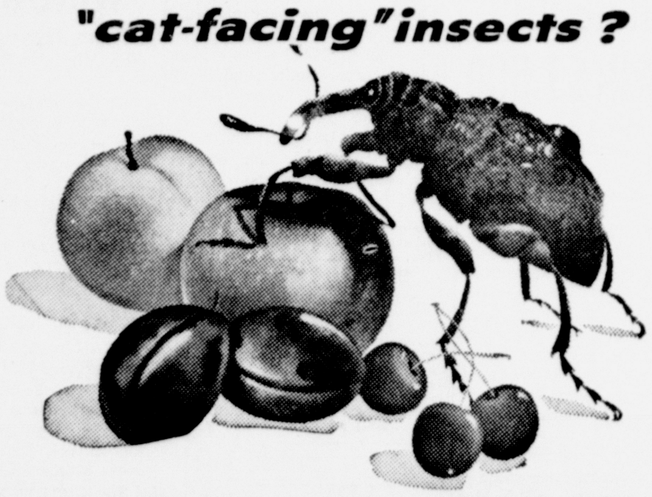
Plum Curculio-
"cat-facing" insects?



GET dieldrin
STILL MOST EFFECTIVE
☆ ECONOMICAL ☆ LONG LASTING

Combine economy—sure control—long-lasting power, and you can easily see why dieldrin is the one insecticide thousands of growers rely on for dependable control of plum curculio and other "cat-facing" insects.

Dieldrin is easy to use. Apply it as a spray during pre-bloom or post-bloom periods. For most effective use, check with local authorities for application schedules and recommended dosage of dieldrin in your area.

Dieldrin is long lasting, too. Its killing action lasts many days after application . . . puts an end to "cat-facing" insects no matter how they contact it. Dieldrin will pay for itself with better quality, more marketable fruit.

This season, don't let plum curculio and other "cat-facing" insects lower the quality and value of your fruit yields. Stop 'em with dieldrin. Dieldrin is available under well-known brand names from your insecticide dealer. See him today.

HONOR TRUMAN ON BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation saluted Harry S. Truman on his 75th birthday Friday night.

It was a coast-to-coast party where the fast-stepping little man from Missouri heard himself described as a man who grew to greatness.

The tributes came from Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives, the great, the not-great, friends, family and old rivals. There was song and laughter.

When it was all over, the usually voluble Truman admitted he was at a loss for words. "I don't know what there is to say," he said. "No man in my recollection has had a treat such as you have given me tonight. I can't talk politics under circumstances like this. I will always remember."

His birthday party was marked by 66 parties in cities across the country. Sixteen of them were linked by closed-circuit television.

Here in New York, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) told him "Harry, history is going to be kind to you. They are going to forget the few times that you have not taken dead aim, but have shot from the hip. They are going to remember you for the great things you have done."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— This city closed its beaches to swimmers Friday in fear of sharks although scientists expressed belief a fatal attack such as that Thursday on a college student probably wouldn't happen again in 100 years.

Eighteen-year-old Albert Kogler died Thursday night of massive wounds after a huge white killer shark attacked him 50 yards off shore. His companion, Shirley O'Neill, 18, swam to his rescue and towed him to the beach.

Andy Varipapa collected the $8,000 jackpot on a nationally televised bowling show from Wayne, N. J.

Taneytown

RACE NEARING END, STUDENTS VOTE FRIDAY

The campaigns for the 1959-60 student council offices at Taneytown High School will culminate in an assembly today when each candidate will outline his platform after which the students will cast their votes.

Sandra Remsburg and Sandra Shorb are seeking the office of president, Jacquelyn Myers and John Lieb are running for vice president, Vicki Lambert and Ravina Arvin for secretary, Victor Welty and Paul Andreas for treasurer and Emma Jane Formwalt and Jeanne Myers for reporter.

The home economics classes will present the annual fashion show Monday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium in place of the regular PTA meeting. Teachers will be in their rooms at 7:30 for visitation with parents.

About 125 students, grades 7-12, will exhibit their projects in the show. The program, divided into six categories, includes daytime wear, around the house apparel, dressy clothes, lounging and sleep wear, classroom clothing and party dresses.

Trip To Washington

Saturday 33 members of the Taneytown Safety Patrol and the Taneytown High School Band will attend the annual AAA School Safety Patrol parade in Washington. Boys and girls from 20 states and the District of Columbia will participate.

Plans are nearing completion for the annual Taneytown High School Alumni banquet and dance June 6 in the high school at 6:30 p.m.

Letters are to be mailed to alumni at their last recorded addresses shortly.

Classes celebrating reunions this year are being asked to contact Mrs. Harry Dougherty Jr., secretary, or Mrs. James Fair, banquet chairman, on their plans for the banquet. Tables will be reserved and special arrangements made for those classes desiring it.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —A Yugoslav marital record holder has died at the age of 65.

Sredoje Goluskin, from northern Serbia, had been married 27 times, Belgrade newspapers reported. They did not say how many of his marriages ended in divorce.

Westbrook Pegler Gets License To Wed

NEW YORK (AP) — Westbrook Pegler, 65, newspaper columnist, and Pearl W. Doane, 47, got a marriage license Friday.

They said they would be married next Monday in the Park avenue apartment of Dr and Mrs. Thomas C. Case, mutual friends.

Pegler makes his home at Tucson, Ariz. Mrs. Doane has a residence in New York City.

Pegler's first wife, the former Julia Harpman, died in 1955. Mrs. Doane was married twice previously, both marriages ending in divorce. She was divorced in 1933 from Ernest Rue at Muskogee, Okla., and in 1953 at Glendale, Calif., from James Doane, an actor's agent.

FREE SUSPECT AFTER FINDING DEAD-RINGER

NEW YORK (AP) — The two men matched each other in height, weight, and even to a walrus-type moustache. That's what got Samuel Woods into plenty of trouble.

Woods, 26, who already had two robbery offenses against him, was picked up last November for holdups netting $2,200 from two Long Island City, Queens, finance companies.

Woods denied the robberies. But four witnesses identified him, a jury convicted him and — as a third offender — he faced many years behind bars.

Earlier this week, Detectives Martin Dillon and John Uknes visited Woods in his jail cell. They told him his sentence would be lighter if he named his accomplice in the Long Island City stickups.

Pleads Innocent

Woods got down on his knees. He wept. He said he was not guilty. He begged the detectives to help him. Impressed, they inspected rogue's gallery photos and found a dead ringer for Woods, even to the walrus moustache. The double is Ralph Rivera, also 26, awaiting trial in Manhattan City Prison on a robbery charge.

Rivera, confronted by the detectives, readily admitted the finance company holdups. When he and Woods met, Rivera said: "I'm sorry I got you in trouble."

Woods, paroled Friday pending dismissal of the robbery charges, told Judge Edward Thompson: "I always said I was innocent. I want to thank the two policemen for helping me prove it."

HITS A GRAND SLAM

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Roman Gabriel, three-sport freshman star at North Carolina State, picked the proper time to hit his first collegiate home run. It came with the bases loaded against Campbell College. Gabriel is a first baseman.

PROTECTING HIS TITLE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Albert Anderson, a dentist who was voted one of the city's 10 best-dressed men, arrived at his office without his collar clip. He took care of the matter in short order, making a substitute from denture plastic.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Because the city keeps him broke with fines, he can't afford to buy a driver's license, said James C. Blackwell. The judge didn't buy the story and fined him $25 on the same charge, operating a vehicle without a permit.

Littlestown

LARGE CROWD FOR CONCERT BY 2 BANDS

The Littlestown Junior-Senior High School auditorium was filled to capacity for the annual concert by the Blue and Gold Band Friday evening.

The Gold Band, directed by LaRue O. Epler, played the following selections: "Honor Band March," Ernest Weber; "Apple Valley Overture," J. Olivadoti; "La Nuit" (The Night), John Cavavas; "Two Classic Miniatures," arranged by Leroy Jackson; "German Dance," Haydn, "Minuet," Teleman; "Loch Lomond," Scotch folk tune, paraphrased by Gerald Tolmage; "Trombone Toboggan," trombone novelty, Ernest Weber; "Redskin Rumpus," Alden Estes; "The Fighting Spirit March," Fred Jewell. Seventy-seven students comprise the Gold Band.

The 70 boys and girls of the Blue Band appeared in their newly purchased uniforms for the first time. The outfits are blue with a gold and red trim.

Paul A. Harner directed the Blue Band for these selections: "Triumphal March," from the MGM picture "Quo Vadis," Miklos Roxa, arranged by Erik Leidzen; "Andante," from the first movement, Opus 74, "Pathetic Symphony," Tchaikovsky, arranged by Percy E. Fletcher; "Napoli," solo for cornet, Herman Bellstedt, with Hugh Roberts as soloist; "Victory At Sea," symphonic scenario from the NBC television production by Richard Rodgers; "The Thunderbolt March," composed by the director, Paul A. Harner, and dedicated to the Littlestown High football team, the Thunderbolts; "My Fair Lady," music by Frederick Loewe, transcribed by Robert Russell Bennett; "Washington Post March," John Philip Sousa, featuring accordionists Sharon Topper, Priscilla Cool, Joan Cool and Dawn Tasto; "Guest Artist," solo on glockenspiel by Richard W. Bowles and the guest artist was Charles W. Weikert, of town, an alumnus of the school; "Oasis for Symphonic Band," Fred Kepner; "The Stars and Stripes Forever," John Philip Sousa, encore by Hugh Roberts, cornetist.

The majorettes performed with the Blue Band. They are Judy Long, Betty Wallick, Heidi Nickey, Brenda Hollinger and Donna Koontz.

The Blue Band presented Mr. Harner with a brief case and cigarette lighter The presentation was made byy Janice Breighner, president of the Blue Band. Serving as ushers were Shirley Showvaker, Shirley Leister, Laura Bowers, Rita Beachtel, Susan Reaver and Diane Redding.
